Don't you feel a change a coming from another side of time, breaking down the walls of silence,
lifting shadows from your mind,
placing back the missing mirrors,
that before you couldn't find,
filling mysteries of emptiness that yesterday left behind

Marymount Continues To Grow And Change

Don't you feel the day is coming that will stay and remain when your children see the answers that you saw the same when the clouds have all gone there will be no more rain and the beauty of all things is uncovered again.

And we all know it's better,
Yesterday has passed;
now let's all start living
for the one that's going to last.
Yes, we all know it's better yesterday has past;
now let's all start living
for the one that's going to last.

FACULTY

Forever within us will remain the roots of a search inspired by you.
Detered not by time or defeat;
Our unquenchable search is balanced on the threshold of a new beginning

STUDENTS

Now the years are rolling by me,
they are rocking evenly;
I am older than I once was and younger than I'll be, but that's not unusual . . .

No, it isn't strange that after changs upon changes
We are more or less the same,
After changes we are more or less the same.

May I say that I have loved me one or two Of the people in my past Fading faces in a waking dream
And though they never seem to last very long
There are faces I remember
From the places in my past
I said all the dead head miles
And the insincere smiles
Sometimes I can laugh and cry
And I can't remember why
But I still love those good times gone by Hold on to them close or let them go
I don't know I just seem to sing these songs And say I'm sorry for the friends I used to know.

That none beguiled by Time's quick flashing,
Lovers have in their hearts a clock still going,
For though time be nimble, his emotions
Are quicker,
And thicker,
Where Love hath his notions.

Hope is the mainstpring on which moves Desire,
And these do the less wheels
Fear, Joy, inspire;
The balance is Thought, evermore
Clicking,
And striking,
And ne'er giving o'er.

Occasions the hand which still moving round,
Till by it the critical hour may be found,
And when that falls out, it will strike
Kisses,
Strange blisses,
And what you best like.

The milkweed seeds sat
Clustered and secure
Along their branch
Until a mighty wind
Swept them in many tangled directions.

The delicate strands
Of long white angel hair
Fingered the air
As they tossed and turned
At the whim of the wind.

Yet the deliverer knew his course
And bumped, bruised and torn,
Settled each down gently to his home.

When you have a mind full of fog
and a heart full of dreams, it's good to be sitting on top of the world where the air is crisp and clean - in the wooden threshold of a crystal stairway that's maybe icy steep winding with steps missing and in place of the vacancy a challenge.

I have learned in the light of your wisdom;
The seed of truth you helped me to plant shall always grow within me.
I am able to see and accept myself as I am; Thankful to have shared myself with you.
All too soon, our preparations for tomorrow,
have become a part of the past.
It's memories, vivid and warm,
Make it hard for me to say goodbye.
The strength that I drew from you Shall forever remain a part of me,
Continuing to grow as I grow; never dying,
Never forgotten.
Yet to live in the shadow of what has been,
Would deny what I have become.
I am of my own; today is my life.

Fall brought our golden days, and exhilarated by their promise we ran barefoot through the meadows gathering wildfllowers, chasing balloons, and challenging the nightingale with our songs.
The possibility that the earth would spin in the direction of our choosing was not remote in our minds, and the thought was tempered only by the gradual realization that we no longer needed to look at the universe through rose-colored glasses to grasp its worth.
We sought out mountains to scale, so that from their heights we could look back into the valleys of our yesterdays, and forward, at the same time,
into the possibilities of our tomorrows.
We waited impatiently for the sunrise, anxious to explore the present and savor the sensation of discovery.
We raced time determined to be involved and fully aware of everything around us, and tried to capture each moment as we lived it before it became a memory fading with the light at sunset.
We know now that we are ready for tomorrow.
Our eyes are wiser and our hearts are fuller.
We are content in knowing who we are,
and secure in our ability to seek out our directions.
Because we are beginning to understand living, we accept ourselves simply and honestly.
Because we have shared laughter, and have not been afraid to share ourselves, we can say good-bye without regrets, and be satisfied that we have cast giant shadows.

CLUBS

Curriculum Committee Strives To Make Improvements

Contemporary Choir

The purpose of the contemporary choir is to provide the music for the liturgies that are held throughout the year. This year the choir was led by two seniors, Gina Williams and Ginny Fleming.

Curriculum Committee

The Curriculum Committee is composed of students and faculty and serves as a mediator between the faculty and students on issues concerning the school's curriculum. They are open to suggestions from teachers and students alike. This year's advisor was Sr. Mary Alice.

Drama Club

The Drama Club this year put together many outstanding productions. They performed several times this year, including at the Christmas performance and on Parent's Weekend. The clubs new supervisor this year was Kate Schafer.

Time And Talent Combine To Make Drama Club Successful.

Fine Arts Club

The Fine Arts Club is responsible for presenting the Fine Arts Weekend. The school had many visitors this year for Fine Arts Day including classical guitarist, photographers, and artists who conducted workshops in macramé, basket-making, dance, and other various fields of art. Mrs. Carreras is the club's advisor.

Future Teachers Of America

The F.T.A. helps the faculty members with much of their paper work such as typing and running off laps. Sr. Eugenie was this year's club advisor.

Mrs. Stith Is Glee Club's New Director For '75.

Glee Club

The Glee Club performed several times this year for the student body. Under the direction of Mrs. Stith, the club gave a memorable Christmas performance at the Senior Bell Ceremony. Mrs. Wells assisted with the graduation presentation.

Students Form All-New Gospel Choir

Gospel Choir

This year several students joined together to form the Marymount Gospel Choir. The choir sings at the school's liturgies and before the student body. The students were led by Melissa Ross, a junior. The Gospel Choir hopes to grow in the near future.

Honor Board

The Honor Board is the organization which makes sure the school's policy of honesty and respect are upheld. It is composed of two elected students from each class and a faculty member who serves as the advisor. This year's advisor was Mr. Spurzem.

Library Club Re-shapes, Re-organizes Library.

International Club

The aim of the International Club is to aquaint students with the people and customs of various cultures. Mrs. Dazey, the club's advisor, arranges for different speakers to be present at the meetings. "TIC" continues to grow in size and interest.

Library Club

This year the Library Club undertook the task of re-organizing the libraries facilities. Along with changes within the library itself, a new Reserve Materials Room was established. The students are of great assistance to Miss Hall, the librarian.

Sewing Club's Fashion Show Reflects Imagination, Hard-work.

Sewing Club

The membership of the sewing club this year was among the largest it has ever had. Sr. Inez and the club members worked long and hard on the fashion show for Parent's Weekend. It included much of what is current in fashion. The show was very successful.

Student Council

The purpose of the student council is to promote and better the student/faculty relationship. It consists of representatives from each class and a faculty representative. This year's S.C.A. president was Cindy Walker, and the faculty representatvie was Mr. Spurzem.

Gymnastics Club

The Gymnastics Club is made up of students who are interested in tumbling and improving their gymnastic skills. With the help of Mrs. Strum, the instructor, the club this year put together the Jester routine for May Day.

Math Club

The Math Club has been set up as a math tutoring center for the students that seek help in math. Mrs. Wittman is the faculty advisor for the club and hopes to motivate students in their studies of mathematics.

Athletic Association

The A.A. is responsible for directing and co-ordinating the athletic events which occur during the year. They also are in charge of organizing the Christmas Dance. This year's president was Laurel Wilson.

Science Club

The Science Club is a newly organized club whose aim is to provide a chance for further study of science to the students interested in the sciences. The club's advisor is Mrs. Berman.

PAXTON Editorial Staff

The theme for this year's PAXTON was adapted from the Cat Steven's song, "Changes IV." The staff felt that it was an appropriate theme in view of the many changes Marymount has experienced in the last four years. The PAXTON staff would like to thank the many people that helped in the making of the yearbook. This year's editor was Mary Byrne assisted by co-editor Leann Haskin. Sr. Joanne was the staff's advisor.

VIRGINIAN Newspaper Staff

The VIRGINIAN, Marymount's newspaper, was brought back into circulation this year by a particularly hard-working staff. Seniors Mary Ann Fox and Patti Thomas were the co-editors, working with Sr. Joanne, the faculty advisor. The editors and staff put out several issues this year and it is hoped that the interest shown this year in the paper will continue.

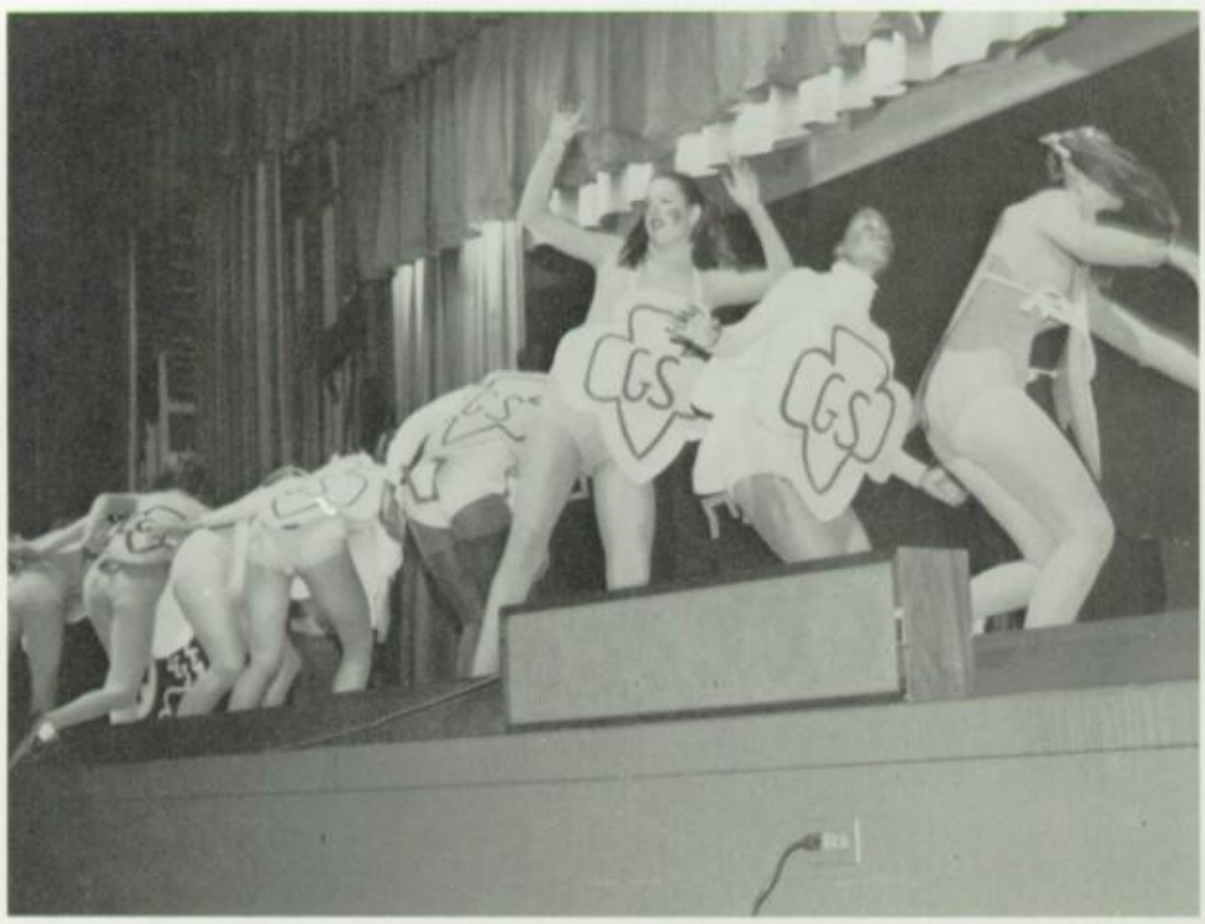
ACTIVITIES

The class of '75 swooped in for first place in this year's Song Contest. Their theme of "Leaving the Nest" clearly signifies their "Take-off" from Marymount. Ann Mabey, the leader, directed the brightly-colored bird with contagious enthusiasm. The seniors' theme helped make their last Song Contest a meaningful and victorious event. The sophomores utilized their class color of green to help them win second place. The Sophs were led by Kathy Quinn, appropriately dressed as a Girl Scout leader, with their theme of "Girl Scouts." The sophs gathered around the fire and entertained the audience with lyrics written to the tunes of favorite campfire songs.

Third place went to the juniors and their theme of "Climb with Us." The class was led by Susan Yeamen.



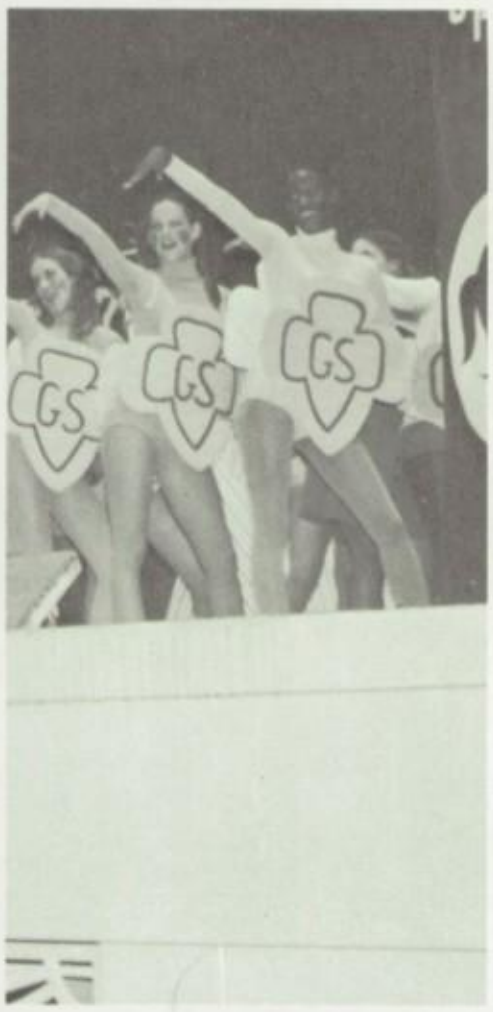
They were dressed like typical Swiss mountain folk and serenaded the audience with mountain folk songs. The dancers were dressed as goats and stepped to the tune of "The Lonely Goatherd."

The freshmen, never to be outdone in originality, topped the evening off with their presentation of "Beverages." Their act featured a drink machine and beverages of all sorts. With Peggy Cummings as their leader, the frosh were truly captivating.

"Song Contest" — For The Birds!

The annual presentation of Song Contest is an exciting event which every student proudly participates in. It promotes class spirit as well as school spirit.

Each class is responsible for picking an original theme, building scenery, making costumes, and arranging and re-writing four songs that deal with its individual themes.



The lyrics of the four songs are written to the big (or.little) sisters, the school, the faculty, and to the class. Song Contest is the first activity at the beginning of the year that helps to bring the whole school together.

Halloween Means Thrills And Chills For All.

The appearance of ghouls and goblins on the night of October 31 is a traditional occurrence everywhere, including Marymount. However, here there is a variation on the theme including such novelties as the company from M*A*S*H*, ballerinas, monsters, and a unique assortment of animals. The night's festivities also included the annual Blue-White team game competition.

This year's "Great Pumpkin" award went to senior Anne Marie Hurdle. Every year the student body votes for the student believed to be the most mischieous. Each class then chooses its own 'pumpkin princess.'' This year's class representatives were Debbie Hancock (freshman), Linda Call (sophomore), Debbie Tierney and Robin Toomey (juniors), and Gerri Toomey and Laurel Wilson, (seniors).

The evening was made complete with the showing of this year's thriller, TEN LITTLE INDIANS.

Career Week Described As "Motivating"

This year, Mrs. Powers initiated a new program at Marymount called Career Week. As guidance counselor, she felt a need to make the students aware of the opportunities now open to women planning careers. With the assistance of the honor board, Mrs. Powers coordinated the program.

The speakers who came ranged in jobs from a lawyer to a stewardess. The students attended hour-long sessions where they heard he guests speak on their present occupation and their educational backgrounds. The students were very responsive and all considered the week a success.

Tropical Paradise '75

The theme for this year's prom was "Tropical Paradise." The class of '76 put together a fantastic prom with plenty of good food and music provided by "Spanky."
Senior Susan Carver was crowned '75 prom queen by prom-chairmen Michelle Humlan and Page Thornhill. Everyone had a great time including the chaperones and faculty members who attended. The prom was a huge success and we all thank the class of '76.

"Good Humor" Plays At Senior After-Party.

After the prom, everyone moved on to the senior after-party. The "Good Humor Band" played and revived the people for another couple of hours of partying. It all ended at around three o'clock and though everyone was exhausted, it still seemed to end too early.

May Day 1975

Few people are aware of the amount of time and hard work devoted to Marymount's annual May Day. The occasion is put together each year as a tribute to their big sisters.

Mrs. Strum, the sophomore class moderator, guided the students again this year in creating another memorable May Day. The theme this year was 'Never Can Say Goodbye.'' The freshmen did the traditional May Pole Dance and were led in by Cathy Cooksey and Linda Call as Hobby and Pal. Laura Keller presented this year's scepter to the May Queen.

The jesters were dressed this year as traditional clowns. They are selected students that are interested in gymnastics. The sophomores presented their big sisters each with a yellow candle that would be used by the seniors in the candle ceremony.

A few of the songs that were chosen for the May Day presentation were "Bookends," "I Gave My Love A Candle," and a medley of songs for the jesters. The music was mixed and recorded by senior Mary Byrne and played by Margaret McGehee without a mishap.

The sophomores and Mrs. Strum did and excellent job of coordinating a beautiful May Day.

Sophs, Juniors Share Spirit Trophy

This year's Field Day proved to be as exciting and eventful as usual. Each year the students of each class participate in the field events in an attempt to capture the coveted Field Day Trophy. The various events include high-jumping, broad-jumping, the javelin throw, shot-put, and a number of less serious events. Each student is encouraged to participate in at least one event.

Although the competition was stiff this year, the sophomore class managed to move ahead in points and eventually win the trophy. The juniors were awarded second place with the seniors and freshmen taking the third and fourth places.

The individual trophies are awarded to those students collecting the most points in their events. This year's three winners were: Juniors Page Thornhill and Franny Usher, and Sophomore Francine Mickens.

Later in the evening, after supper, Athletic Director Mrs. Strum presented students with awards earned through participation in the school's team sports. It was also at this time that the winner of the Spirit Trophy was announced. It was shared by the sophomore and junior classes.

Following the presentation of awards, the students moved down to the hockey field to participate in the Candle Ceremony. The seniors gave their candles to their chosen junior to symbolize that they are now seniors, and the seniors are alumnae. It was a tearful end to an exciting day which everyone will remember.

SPORTS

In the end you can see where the victory lies -

In the essence of glory
when the voice of one cries

For the spirit of unity, and devotion to trial;

This lasting victory, from us never denied.

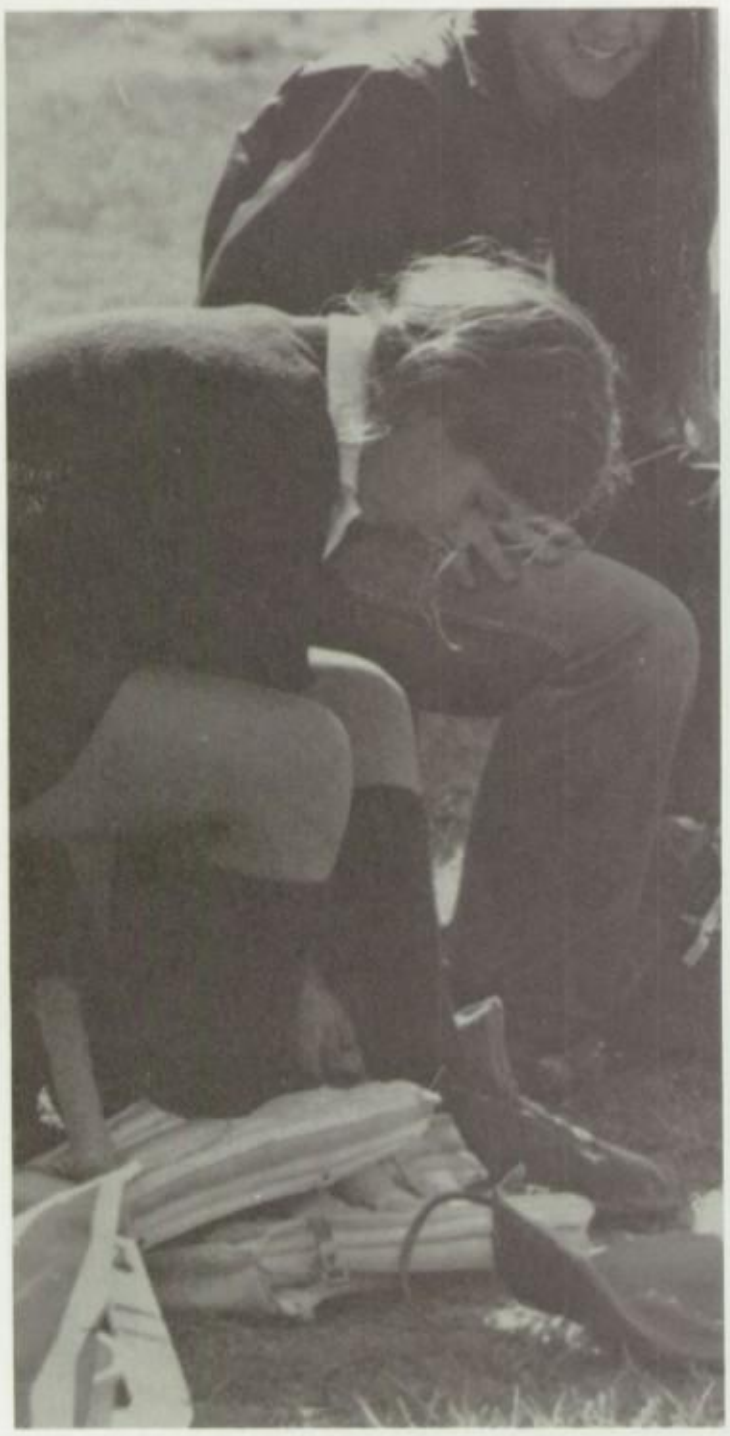
'75 Hockey Team Places 2 Players In Allied Tournament



Just back from hockey camp in Delaware, the Mounties began their season with a 4-0 victory against Huguenot High School. Mrs. Strum, our coach, was highly encouraged by the girls' superior show of skill, talent, and endurance. Like gazelles, the attacking players floated through the air to place the ball behind the white line in the goal cage. The defense stood by with a faithful, watchful eye. The first victory of the season, the first game of the season was thoroughly enjoyed by team and fans alike. So as the colors of summer drifted past, the gold of autumn brought success, defeat, and a lot of hard work.

Along with Mrs. Strum this year was Ray Robinson, an alumna of Marymount ('69). She was there to help Mrs. Strum to coach the fast-growing team. Together, the two coaches improved the team's accuracy and quickness in order to bring the Mounties' skills together. Though the team succumbed to defeat by Gerties, they did not let the 1-0 loss discourage them in the least. Reunited against the alumni in November, they paved their way to victory. In the Allied tournament at Collegiate, the team placed Teresa Williams as first team left wing and Suzanne Johnson as the second team center half-back on the Allied teams. Several seniors will graduate from both A and B teams in order to prepare the way for the impressive, younger players. Those who understand and appreciate the teams' dedication to hockey, will also understand how much they appreciated the season and all it taught them.

B — Team Has A Successful, Winning Season

Marymount's Lacrosse team continued to expand this year, both in size and talent. Under the guidance of Mrs. Strum, the relatively new team played against several teams this year, including St. Catherine's, Collegiate, St. Margaret's, and others. The team captains for the '74-'75 year were Junior Page Thornhillo and Senior Laurel Wilson.

Softball Team

The softball team is another of Marymount's newly organized teams. It was coached this year by Elly McNally, an alumna of Marymount. The team worked hard this year to give a good showing at the games. The team is made up mostly of juniors and sophomores interested in improving their softball skills.

Basketball Team

The Basketball team was smaller than usual this year because of the loss of last year's senior players. It was coached this year by Ed Koffenburger, who led the team through a tough year. The hard work had its reward, however, in the teams winning games. The team hopes that by next year the interest in basketball will be increased in the school.

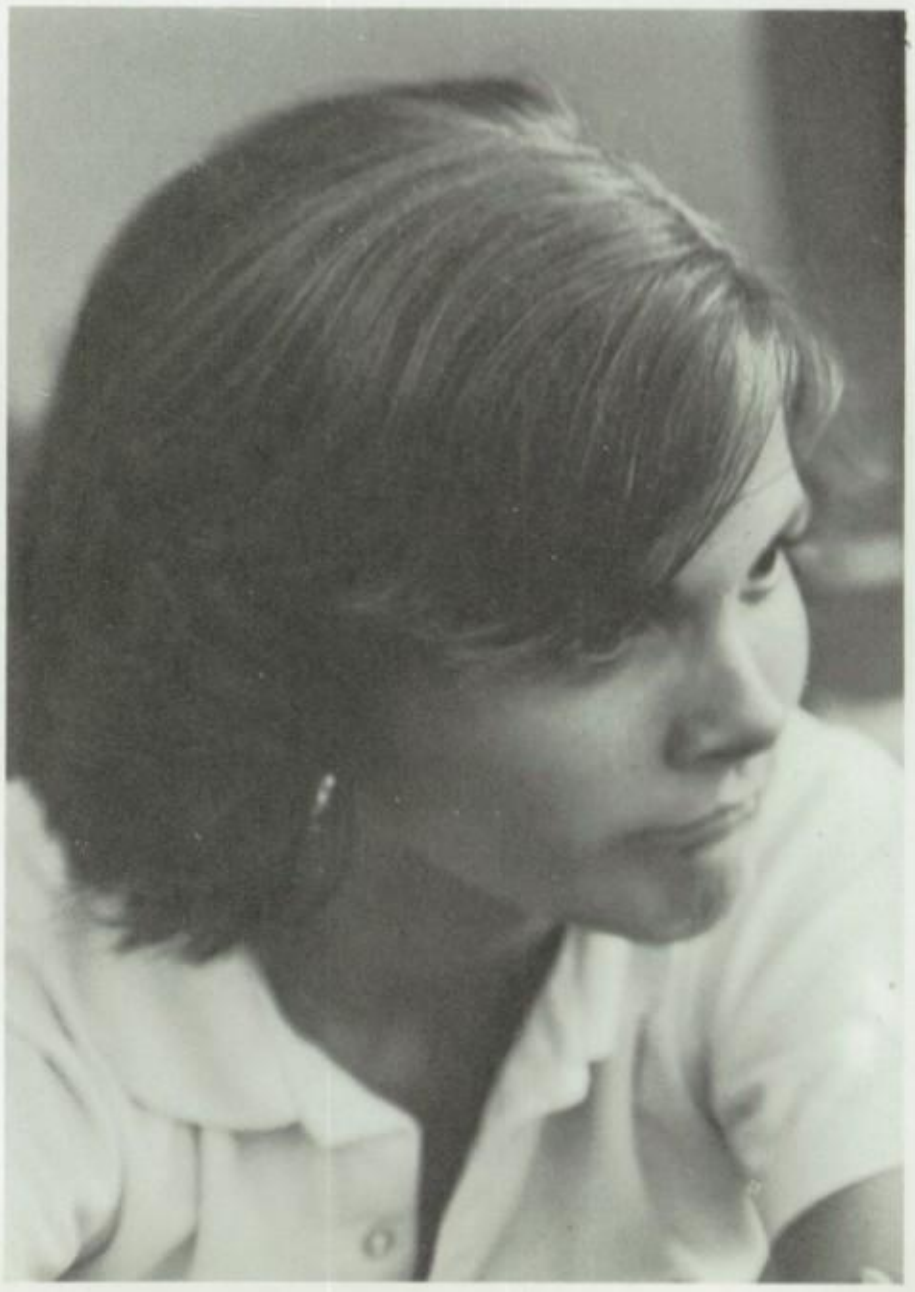
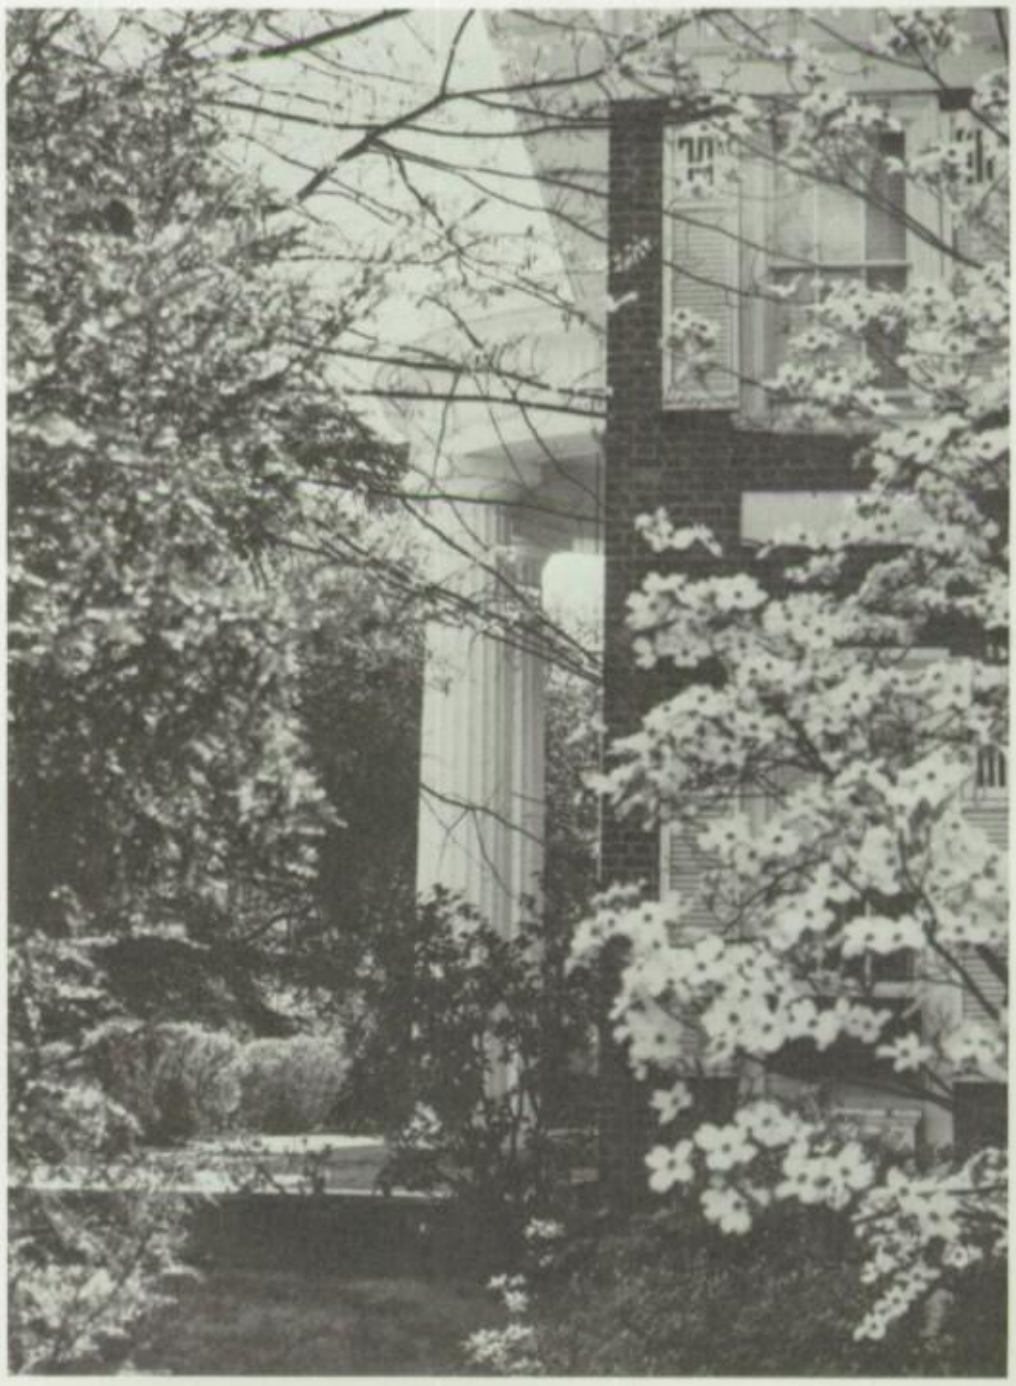
Marymount Continues To Encourage

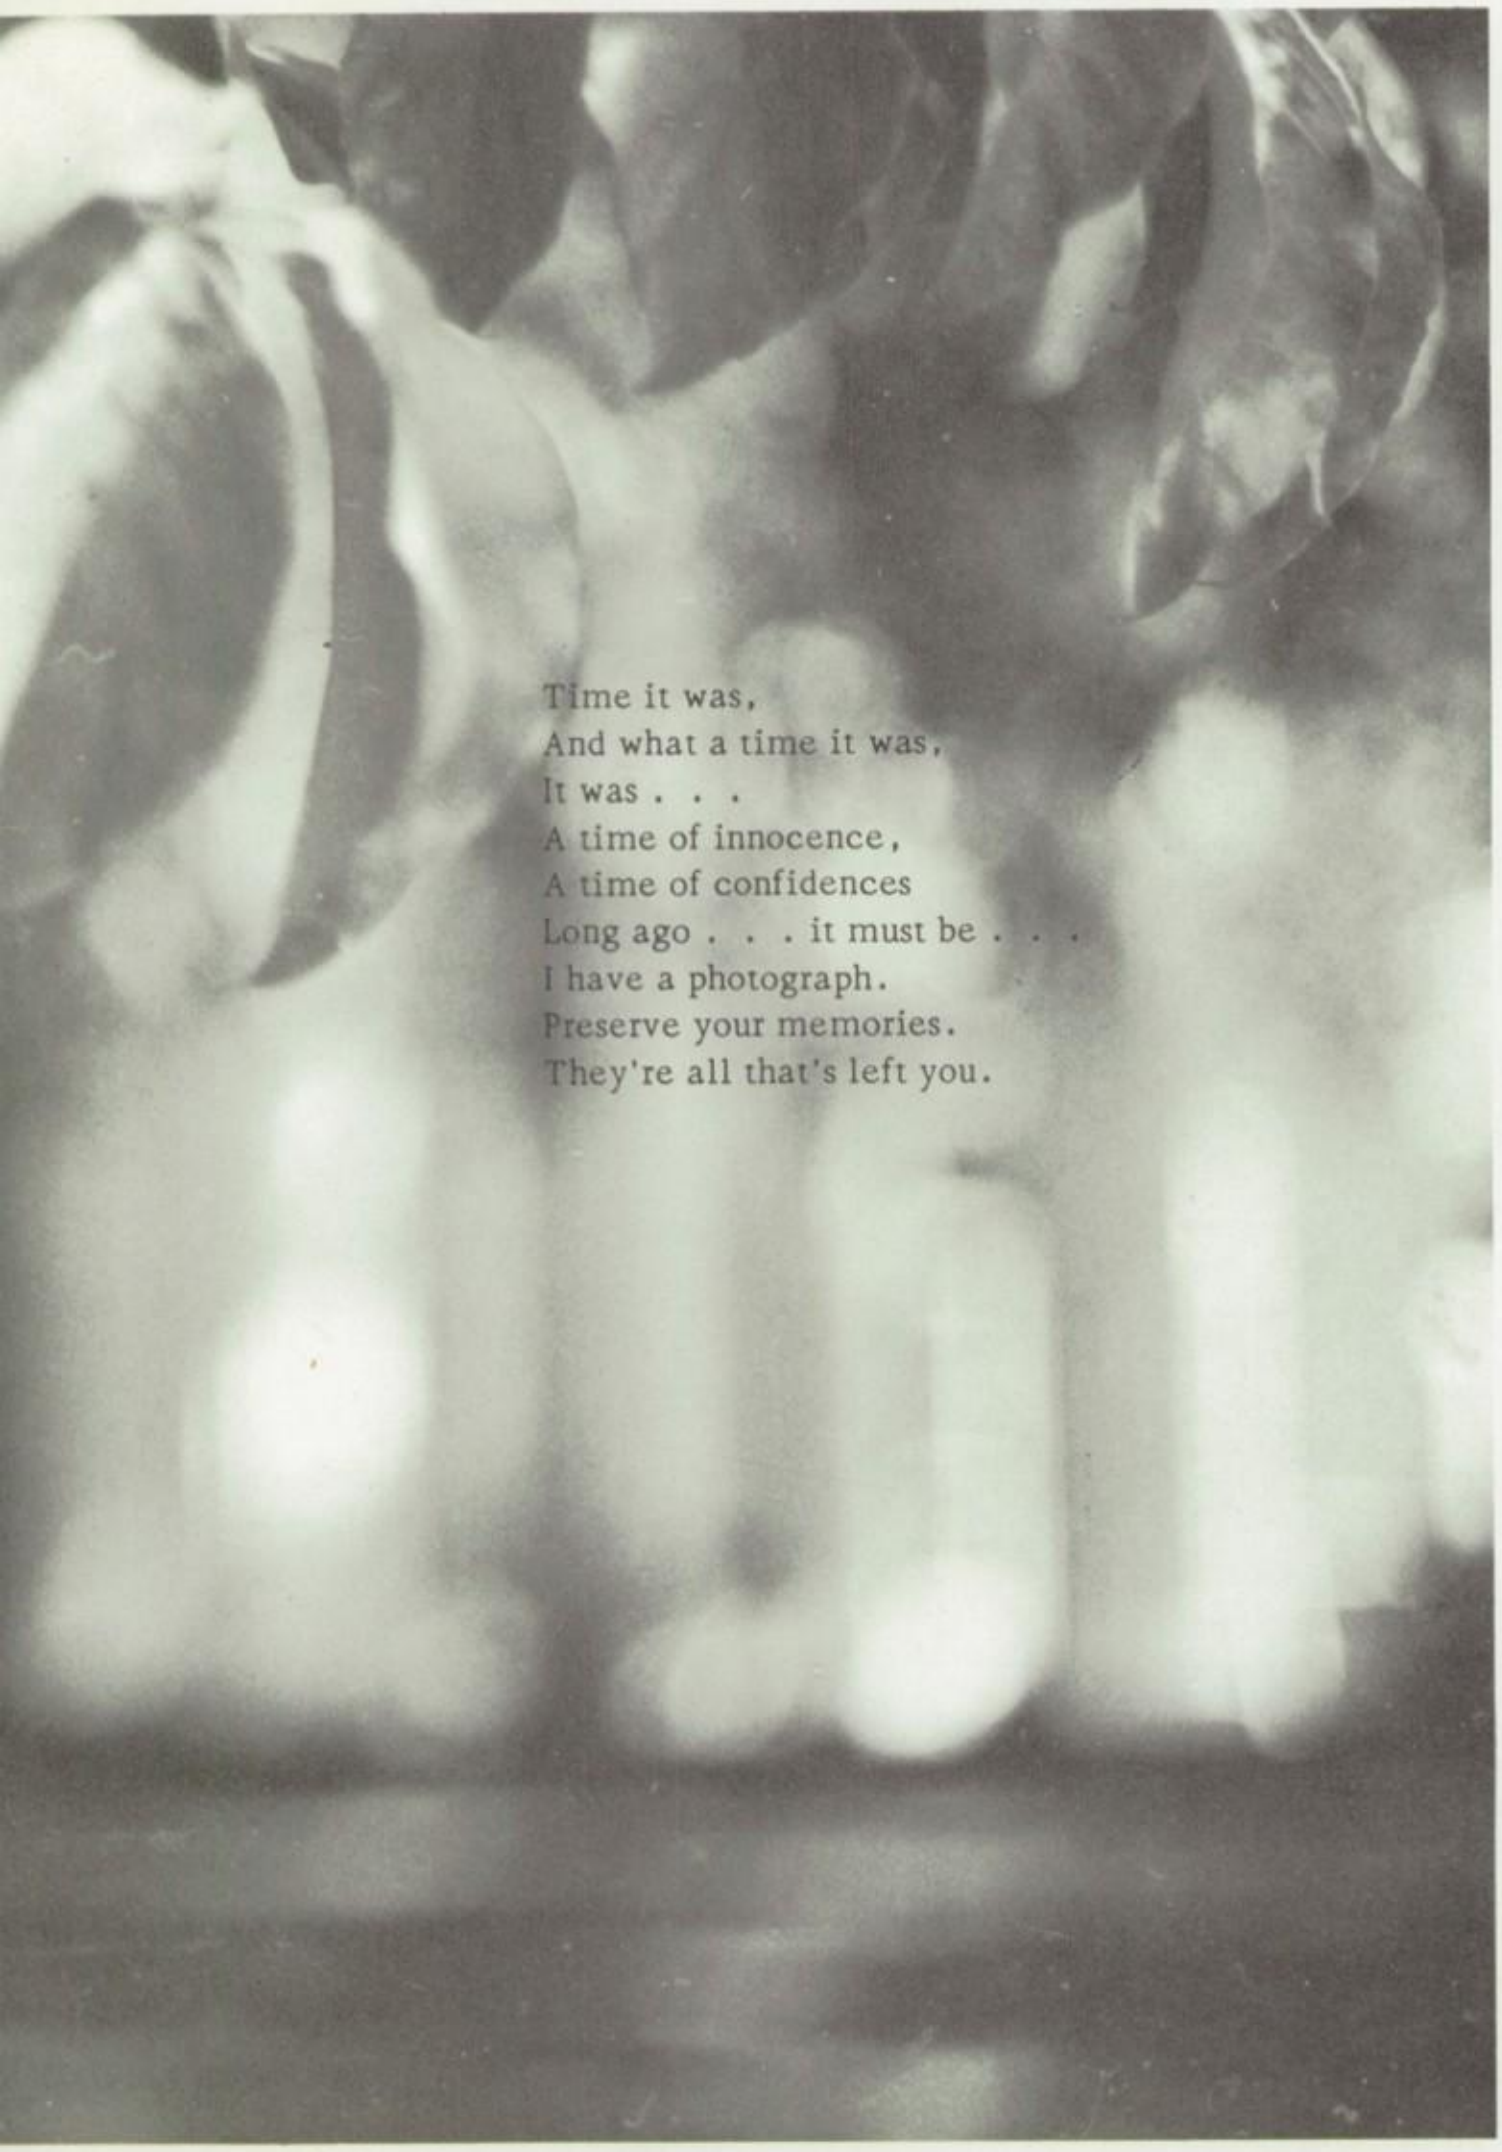


Students To Develop Individuality

Don't you feel a change a coming
From another side of time
Breaking down the walls of silence
Lifting shadows from your mind



Placing back the missing mirrors
That before you couldn't find
Filling mysteries of emptiness
That yesterday left behind.



Time it was,
And what a time it was,
It was . . .
A time of innocence,
A time of confidences
Long ago . . . it must be . . .
I have a photograph.
Preserve your memories.
They're all that's left you.
